

Ferring Pharmaceuticals

Running a virtual department through outsourcing

Silvana Cappi

Running a virtual department through outsourcing

the situation

outsourcing strategy

outsourcing models

key success factors

challenges and tools

conclusion

Running a virtual department through outsourcing

the situation

outsourcing strategy

outsourcing models

key success factors

challenges and tools

conclusion

1950

Ferring founded in Malmö, Sweden

1999

Ferring International Centre

2002

R&D facilities in Copenhagen the situation (internal) internal resources

1999 – 9 full time
employees

2009 – 19 full time
employees

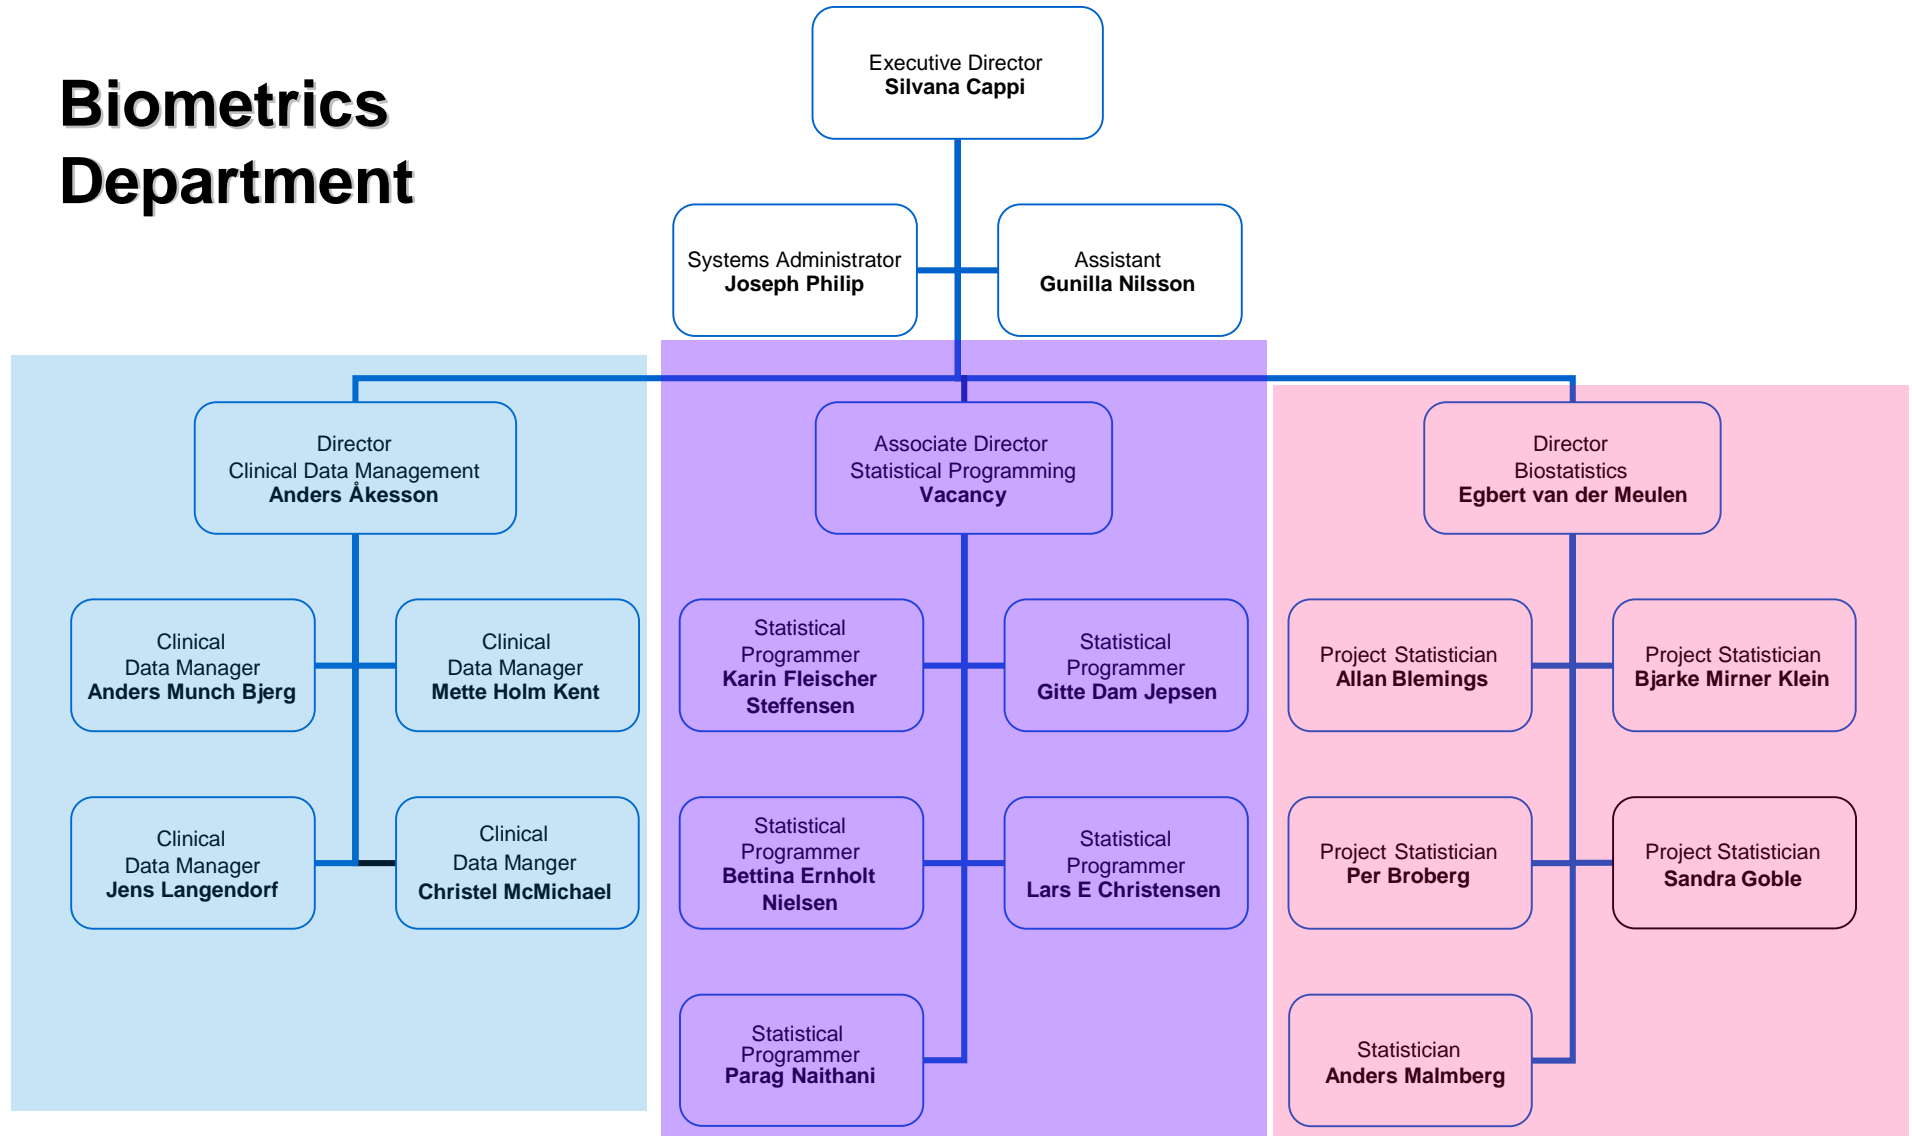

workload

2 phase III trials

27 trials ongoing

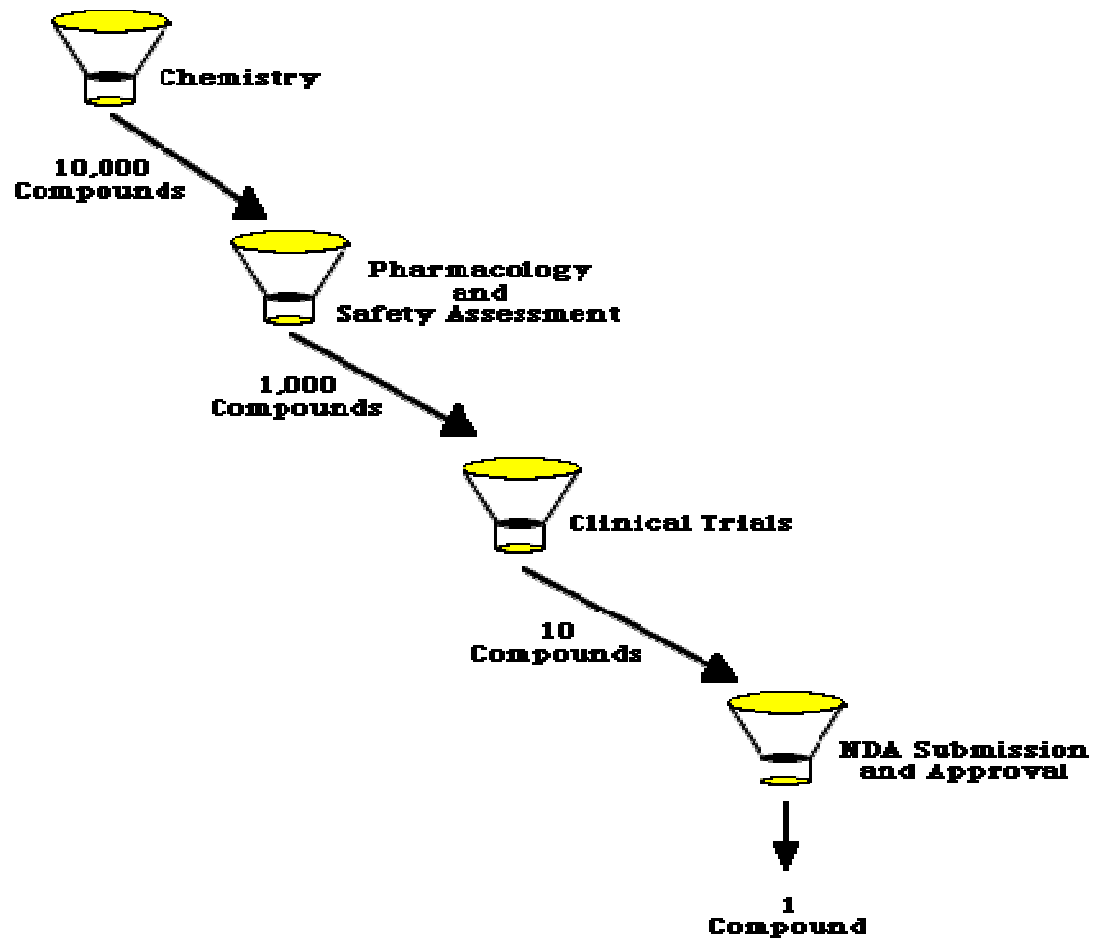

PEOPLE COME FIRST AT FERRING

Biometrics Department

PEOPLE COME FIRST AT FERRING

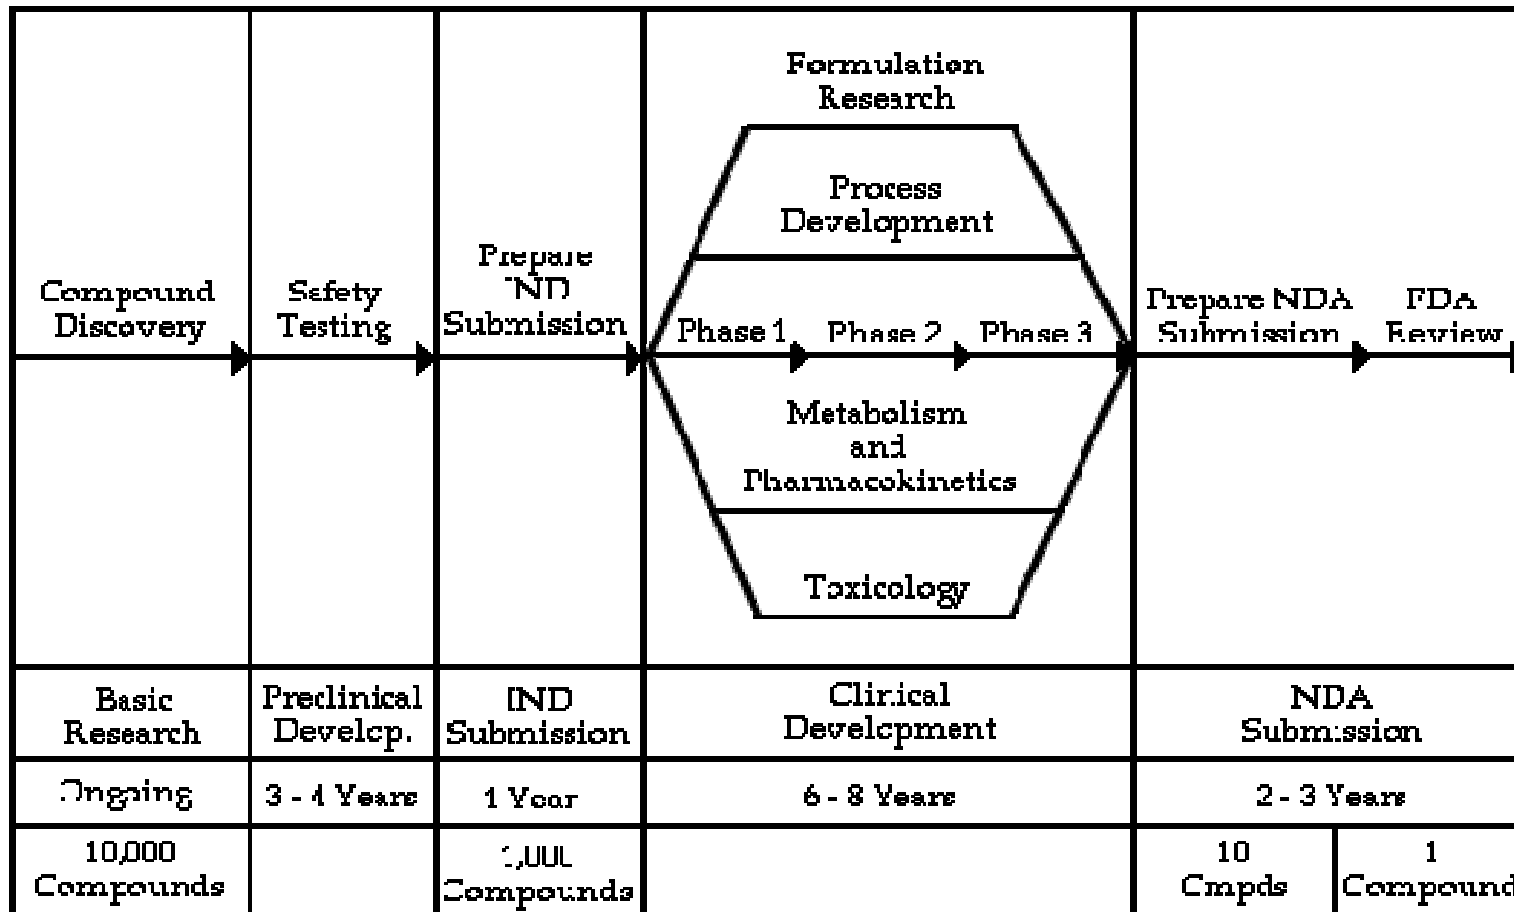

the situation (external environment)

- high attrition rates

PEOPLE COME FIRST AT FERRING

- complicated and lengthy process

PEOPLE COME FIRST AT FERRING

- high costs

taking a product to the market costs

(included the cost R&D, clinical trials, failed drugs, and the cost of capital)

$ 802 million dollars (2003 figures) today > 1 billion!

PEOPLE COME FIRST AT FERRING

- workload difficult to predict

workload

- Delays
- New activities
- Questions from authorities

time

internal situation

resources vs. workload

external environment

high attrition rate

complicated and lengthy process

very expensive

workload difficult to predict

outsourcing

Running a virtual department through outsourcing

the situation

outsourcing strategy

outsourcing models

key success factors

challenges and tools

conclusion

PEOPLE COME FIRST AT FERRING

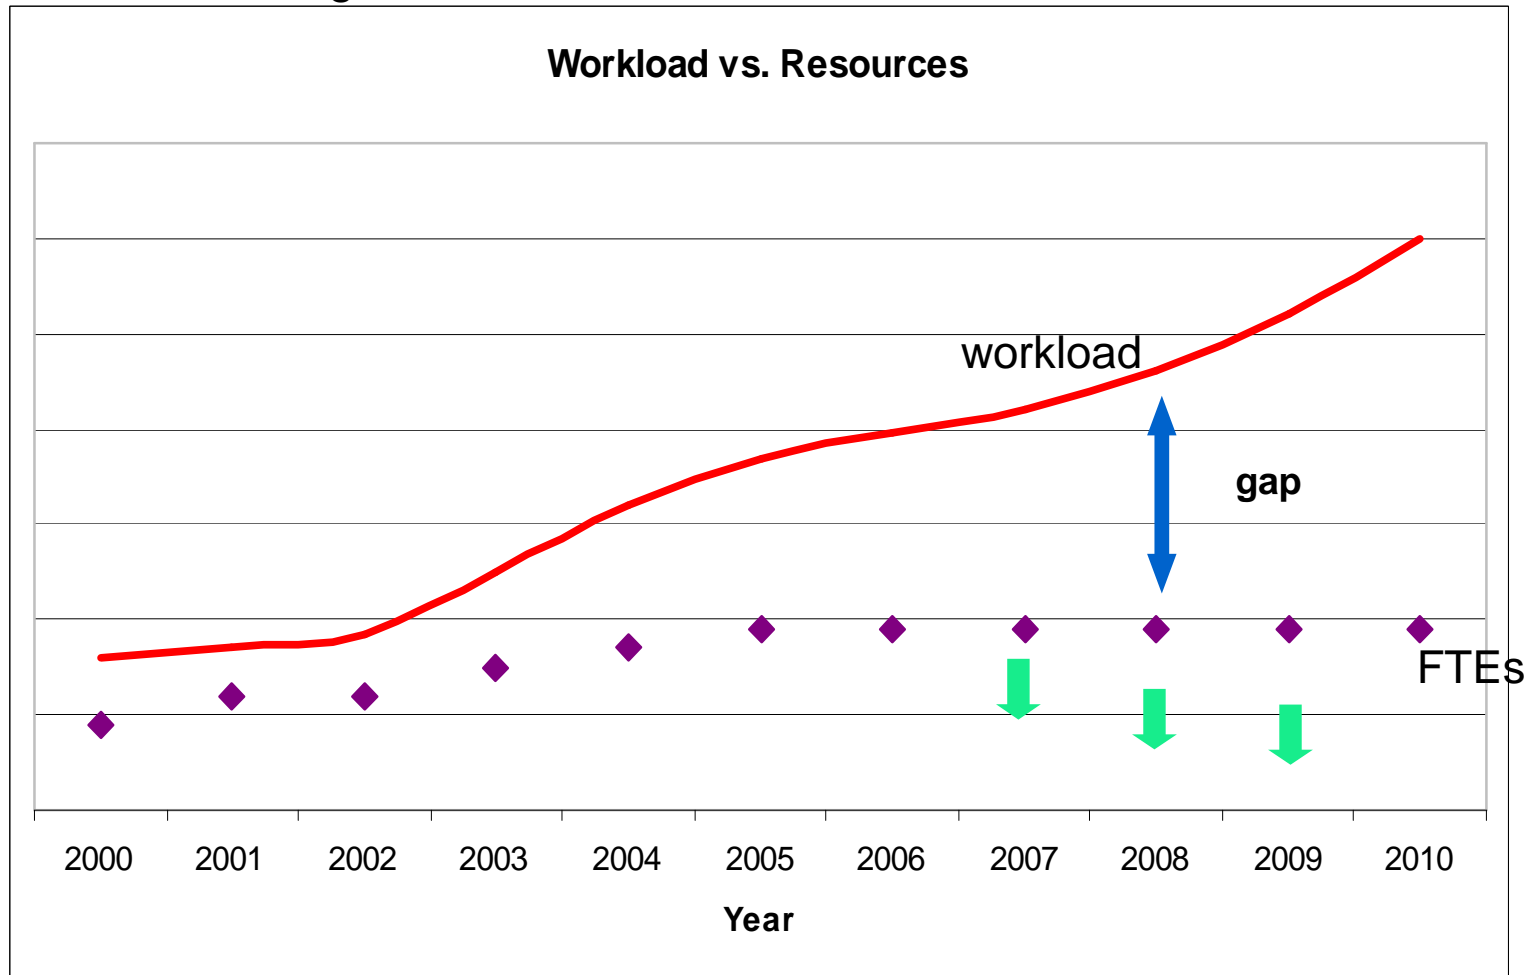

at the beginning ...

tactical urgency!

PEOPLE COME FIRST AT FERRING

outsourcing, an illustration:

sponsors were complaining of

- vendors not delivering according to expectations
- poor communication
- poor responsiveness
- inadequate resources (quality and/or quantity)
- too much internal work required
- contract organisations not pro-active

(Results from survey Spring 2005) vendors are complaining of

- negotiations are one-sided
- micro-management
- higher standards than sponsors are hold to
- little trust and sharing of information
- not considered part of the team

(Avoca Group, 2005)

strategic view to outsourcing

- what to outsource
- what do we keep in-house
- which model is the best for us
- to whom

OWEN WORLD-HERALD
KEERBAN

NO, YOU MAY NOT OUTSOURCE
YOUR HOMEWORK
TO INDIA.

strategic outsourcing phase I studies outsourced phase II and pivotal phase III in-house in house staff focus on core activities eCRF applications outsourced partnerships with preferred providers whether in-house or outsourced: seamless!

core activities / responsibilities definition of standards repository databases

in-depth knowledge of our products (our activities) outsourcing management

Running a virtual department through outsourcing

the situation

outsourcing strategy

outsourcing models

key success factors

challenges and tools

conclusion

we need a sourcing model that

- is adaptable to peaks and troughs
- gives access to first rate expertise
- minimises risk
- minimises use of internal resources
- allows us to focus on core activities off-shore group in India

independent contractors

staff augmentation

out-tasking

2001 EDC

eCRF provider

- applications
- data management

projects

Biometrics activities for a clinical trial or group of trials

Running a virtual department through outsourcing

the situation

outsourcing strategy

outsourcing models

key success factors

challenges and tools

conclusion

key success factors

choice of preferred providers

- ensure regulatory compliance
- ensure compatibility, good cultural match clarifying expectations

- milestones
- overall timelines
- roles and responsibilities
- define deliverables
- methods, etc.

key success factors

contracts

- standard responsibility split joint vendor – company teams

- communication tools
- face-to-face meetings

long-term relationships stability

shared values

openness

TRUST

Running a virtual department through outsourcing

the situation

outsourcing strategy

outsourcing models

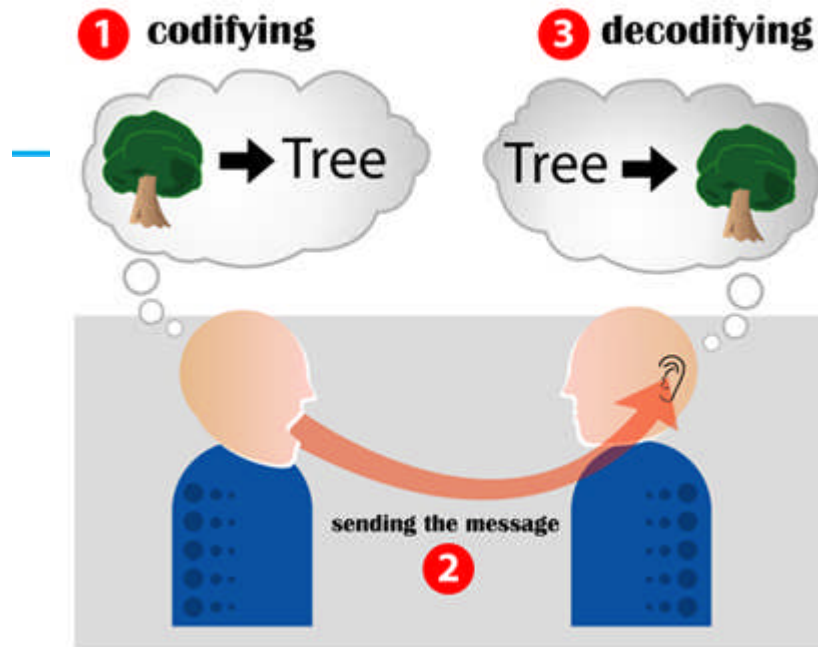

key success factors

challenges and tools

conclusion

common goals and communication factors affecting communication

- culture
- ethnicity
- generational
- gender
- media

multicultural and virtual communication cultural awareness

how?

systems, procedures and environment exchange of info in almost real time common SOPs

sharing same environment

SAS Drug Development program for interchange

Running a virtual department through outsourcing

the situation

outsourcing strategy

outsourcing models

key success factors

challenges and tools

conclusion

conclusion

successful partnerships are possible!

successful teams require

- common goals and commitment

- trust and respect

- clear leadership

- empowerment

- good communication & tools to support it

Thank you!

Global Biometrics 2009